

VIJAYANAGARA SRI KRISHNADEVARAYA UNIVERSITY

Jnana Sagara Campus, Vinayakanagara, Cantonment, BALLARI - 583 105.

Department of Studies in Political Science

Programme Outcomes (POs):

At the end of the programme students will be able to:

PO1: To develop comprehensive understanding of the subject by teaching both conventional and new areas of relevance in the domain of political theory and philosophy, Indian politics, comparative politics, public administration and international politics.

PO2: To develop comprehensive and interdisciplinary knowledge by emphasizing inter-linkages between various political, economic and social issues and challenges.

PO3: To generate socially-informed knowledge and cater to the educational upliftment of marginalized communities through papers like Human Rights, Political Ideas in Modern India and Women and Politics in India.

PO4: To develop theoretically rich and empirically grounded knowledge

PO5: To motivate and inform students about the opportunities and future prospects in the field.

PO6: To develop the overall personality of students and prepare them to compete and succeed in their endeavors.

PO7: To provide a progressive, healthy and vibrant environment to its students as well as teachers for the purpose of developing a department known for its academic and intellectual pursuit.

PO8: To inculcate the values of tolerance, progressiveness and fraternity that contributes towards the making of a healthy and prosperous society.

B. Wherman

PO9: An M.A., Dissertation and its viva-voce was also introduced in 2019 to train the students in writing research papers.

Course Outcomes (COs):

I Semester

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH - 101 WESTERN POLITICAL THOUGHT:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
	This paper provides an understanding of universality and conceptuality of key
CO1	This paper provides an understanding political concepts given by the western political thinkers.
	political concepts 8.
	This course deals with the classical thinkers and their contribution to western this course deals with the classical thinkers and their contribution to western the emergence of Politics.
	This course deals with a movides students an insight on the emergence of Politics.
	This course deals with the classical tillingers and an insight on the emergence of Politics. political philosophy that provides students an insight on the emergence of Politics.
	The paper proposes familiarization to students about the major differences between
CO3	The paper proposes familiarization to students about the major the bistorical
	The paper proposes familiarization to students do not be a superior to students do not be a superior paper proposes familiarization to students do not be a superior paper proposes familiariz various Western pontical timites, perspective.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH - 102 Political Theory:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
	This paper distinguishes and makes a systematic and normative inquiry from other
CO1	kinds of inquiry within the discipline of political science.
	Enables to write a clear and coherent expository synopsis of the theory of a major
CO ₂	thinker in the history of political thought.
	It will Identify the most important contributors to modern Western political thought and explain why their contributions are important.
	It can also explain the central concepts in modern Western political thought.
	The paper demonstrates the ability to apply the abstract theory to concrete problems by using the ideas of political theorists to address contemporary social issues such as affirmative actions.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH – 103 Political Process and Politics in India:

B. Willemann.
CHAIRMAN

Department of Political Science Vijayanagar Sri Krishnadevaraya University Jnana Sagar Campus, Vinayaknagar,

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH - 103 Political Process and Politics in India:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
	India as a largest democracy has adopted parliamentary system of government and this course provides students a broad outlook of its functioning,
	As a nation with colonial history, India presents a story of success. The democratic
CO2	As a nation with colonial mistory, many property and presents its evolution for the students.
	This critical component needs an analysis to understand its politics.
CO4	As a plural and diverse country the current Indian political scenario presents fiercely contending force and recent trends in it.
005	This paper is aimed at giving that critical input to reflect upon some of the major developments in the contemporary Indian politics.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH – 104 Theories of International Relations:

After completion of this course students will be able to

Statement
The study of international relations involves theoretical approaches based on evidences of the behaviour of the state in an international arena.
Theories of international relations are essentially a set of ideas aimed at explaining how the international system works — such as Realism that focuses on the notion that states work to increase their own power relative to other states.
Understanding these major theories and approaches to the study of International Politics and examining them critically thus helps the students to broaden and deepen their knowledge with regard to the demand for peace and conflict in the world.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 105- Indian Administrative System:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement Statement
	This paper is a part of the learning in the broad areas of political science and public administration.
CO2	The paper aims at giving the students a clear and critical understanding about India's Constitution, its framing and the processes involved in realizing its goals and objectives.
	government offers a theoretical and institutional base for the country of the government processes and how the administration functions as the backbone of this system.
CO4	This is an important component of the discipline of political science as it helps the students to understand the necessity of a government and the difference between a government and administrative machinery.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 106- Development Administration:

After completion of this course students will be able to

After completion of this course
CO	Statement interface between public policy
CO1	The paper seeks to provide an introduction to the interface between public policy and administration in India.
	This paper emphasis on issues related to democracy, social welfare and financial
CO2	accountability from a non-western perspective.

II Semester

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 201- Modern Indian Political Thought

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
	This paper takes a look at the renaissance of modern India as one of the most
COI	significant phenomena of world history.
	Since the middle of the 19 th century the mind and soul of India have been awakened by great many thinkers. The paper exposes these changes for a critical understanding of these inputs in the CO3	The paper exposes these changes for a critical and a control of the paper exposes these changes for a critical and a critical

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 202- Modern Political Analysis:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	The paper helps the students to have a fundamental grasp over the various modern approaches that explain the political development in the contemporary times.
(())	It concentrates specifically on some of the major paradigms that occurred while analyzing different theories of politics.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 203- Comparative Politics:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
	This paper deliberates on how comparing two systems and their politics help the CO1	This paper deliberates on now comparing two systems understanding a whole system and society.
	An exposure to the functioning of various forms of Government and the Politics in CO2	An exposure to the functioning of the different and distinctive characters different countries familiarizes students the different and distinctive characters of these systems.
	The paper emphasizes the constitutional frame work, competencies and their functioning in the global scenario.
	The idea behind the framing of this paper is to expose the students to help them make
	The idea bening the framing of this paper is to their choice in matters of better governance comparing it with institutional structures and frameworks of other countries.
	and frameworks of other countries.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 204 Major Issues in International Relations:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper seeks to probe and ascertain the major issues and debates over the International relations at the contemporary times.
CO2	The paper also deals about the festering problems and the complex relationships, both bilateral and multilateral relations using different ideologies.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 205- Theories of Public Administration:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	It introduces students to the theories of public administration covering topics that are significant including bureaucracy, executive etc.
CO2	This course is designed to cover lectures, student presentations and group discussions to encourage them understand administration as it is.
CO3	The goal is to develop a solid understanding of public administration theory, including the ongoing research within it and its effects on the dimensions of policy formulation and implementation.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 206- Administrative Reforms in India:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	Students will learn in this paper a familiarity on the areas of administrative reforms both at the state and union levels.
CO2	The course is designed to understand the various issues engulfed in the steel frame work of Indian Administration.

B. Walpatamed CHAIRMAN

Department of Political Science

Vijayanagar Sri Krishnadevaraya University

Vijayanagar Campus, Vinayaknagar,

Jnana Sagar Campus, Vinayaknagar,

Cantonment, BELLARY-583 104

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 204 Major Issues in International Relations:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper seeks to probe and ascertain the major issues and debates over the International relations at the contemporary times.
CO2	The paper also deals about the festering problems and the complex relationships, both bilateral and multilateral relations using different ideologies.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 205- Theories of Public Administration:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	It introduces students to the theories of public administration covering topics that are significant including bureaucracy, executive etc.
× .	This course is designed to cover lectures, student presentations and group discussions to encourage them understand administration as it is.
CO3	The goal is to develop a solid understanding of public administration theory, including the ongoing research within it and its effects on the dimensions of policy formulation and implementation.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 206- Administrative Reforms in India:

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	Students will learn in this paper a familiarity on the areas of administrative reforms both at the state and union levels.
CO2	The course is designed to understand the various issues engulfed in the steel frame work of Indian Administration.

B. Wellermon CHAIRMAN

Department of Political Science
Vijayanagar Sri Krishnadevaraya University
Vijayanagar Campus, Vinayaknagar,
Jnana Sagar Campus, Vinayaknagar,
Cantonment BELLARY-583 104

III Semester

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 301- Contemporary Political Thought

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper on the issues on the contemporary Political Thought will be able to grasp the various aspects and perspectives related to contemporary political philosophy.
CO2	The students will also be able to reflect the issues and problems that they confront in their day to day life.
CO3	The paper will enrich and deepen their understanding of the subject with more rigor and clarity.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 302- Political Sociology

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	Students will be able to identify the political behaviours of social classes, racial and ethnic groups, genders, generations, elites, masses, gays, religious, and other groups in western and non-western societies.
CO2	They will be able to analyze as to how social forces shape policy on issues such as welfare, health care, international trade, information policy, education, abortion, criminal justice, defense, and foreign policy.
CO3	They will compare and contrast the major theoretical insights in the field of political sociology of influential scholars such as Marx, Weber and Durkheim.
CO4	They will identify and describe the ideologies and utopian visions that motivate political action and assess how politics and power is influenced by trends such as the growth of the internet and the global economy.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 303-Indian Government and Politics

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper discuses about how India as a largest democracy has adopted parliamentary system of government. As a nation with colonial history, India presents a story of success. The democratic experiment in India presents its evolution. This critical component needs an analysis to understand its politics. As a plural and diverse country the current Indian political scenario presents—a fiercely contending force and provides students the working of the largest democracy in India.
CO2	This paper is aimed at giving that critical input to reflect upon some of the major developments in the contemporary Indian politics to the students.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 304- India's Foreign Policy

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper introduces the key principles of India's foreign policy to students who are interested in the specializing in International Relations.
CO2	This paper deals about the historical perspectives of the making the foreign policy of India and provides an insight to the students to understand and suggest new dynamic policies in the days to come.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 305-Karnataka Government and Politics

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	The course has a objective of focusing the historical evolution of government and politics. It tries to emphasize the importance of unification movement.
CO2	The student will try to acquire the knowledge on the factors responsible for the unification of Karnataka. It also tries to redress the challenges that combat the working of government and politics in Karnataka politics.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSS 306-Urban Governance In India

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	The paper aims at providing theoretical understanding of the concept of urban development to students with the help of specific illustrations of urban development strategies and administrative interventions.
CO2	It also makes a sincere attempt to help students to analyze different measures adopted by the governments with the objective of securing planned and balanced development of urban centers in India.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSOE 307-Good Governance and Service Delivery in Karnataka

After completion of this course students will be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	The paper intends to provide meaning, nature and importance of good governance. Since Karnataka has become a pioneer state in the service delivery mechanism.
CO2	The student will know the strength and weakness of Karnataka Administrative service and also it helps to learn the different modes of service delivery.
CO3	It studies in detail the governing structure- both Constitutional and Administrative process at different phases.

B. Welfalamon CHAIRMAN

IV Semester

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 401- Political Ideology

After completion of this course student should be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	The ideologies surveyed in this course are liberalism, conservatism, socialism, which will familiarize the students with the terms of contemporary debates about politics.
CO2	The course makes a strong emphasis on how the political ideologies are expressed in actual political discourse.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 402-Issues in Contemporary Political Theory

After completion of this course student should be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper will focus on the theories that have emerged during the later part of the 19th and 20th century and in the beginning of 21 st century.
CO2	The idea is to provide the students with an insight in to the developing theoretical knowledge in their discipline, while making them understand the significance of a theory in explaining phenomenon.
CO3	Since theories are formulated to explain, predict, and understand phenomena and, in many cases, to challenge and extend existing knowledge within the limits of critical bounding assumption the theoretical framework acts as a structure to hold or support a theory of a research study.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 403-Research Methodology And Computer Application

After completion of this course student should be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	This paper on research method in political science is significant as it helps in solving various planning and operational problems.
CO2	It involves the study of cause and effect relationships between various variables and helps to identify behavior/patterns/trends in certain variables.
CO3	The role of research in several fields of applied social sciences including political science is immeasurable.

Department of Political Science
Vijayanagar Sri Krishnadevaraya University

CO4	Research as an aid to public policy making has gained added importance, both for government and business. Through research students will get the ability to devise alternative policies and can as well examine the consequences of each of these alternatives.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 404- Project Work

After completion of this course student should be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	Project work is designed to disseminate the method of inquiry, methodological nuances and expression in writing formally to find solutions and alternatives to a short, medium or long term problems that are affecting the society and students will be benefitted by practically involving in finding solutions to dynamic issues in the political and social environment.
CO2	As a student of Political Science the students are expected to understand the pulse of people who are the targets of government decision making.
CO3	They are supposed to be sensitive to day-to-day decisions made by the government and assess their impact empirically and through a feedback mechanism must feed the government the loopholes in them.

Title of the Course with Code: MAPSH 405-Social Movements In India

After completion of this course student should be able to

CO	Statement
CO1	The paper deals with concepts and dimensions of the various social movements in India.
	It also makes an analysis of different theories highlighting the major debates and differences within the various theoretical paradigms and stages of the Social Movements in India.